THE RIGHT TECHNOLOGY THE RIGHT RESPONSE

Every construction site is different and constantly changing. Site layout, access, working patterns, contractors, visitors, plant and materials all create different security requirements.

Our teams take the time to understand your operations and identify where effective security can make the greatest difference.

We combine technology, monitoring and physical security to provide the right level of protection for your site.

SECURITY SOLUTIONS DESIGNED AROUND YOUR OPERATIONS

BOSS provides a complete range of security services that can be deployed individually or combined to create an integrated solution.

Monitored CCTV

Live monitored CCTV sits at the heart of our security solutions.

Our CCTV systems are fully monitored by our control room, with trained monitoring personnel assessing activity and identifying potential security incidents as they happen. This is tailored around your requirements, providing visibility beyond normal working hours.

Real-time assessment

Our monitoring team assesses activity and potential incidents before determining the appropriate response.

Rapid response

Where required, our control room coordinates a response through our mobile patrol units, other appropriate security services and the police.

Flexible technology

CCTV systems deployed around the requirements of your site and adapted as your project develops.

Mobile patrols

Visible deterrence.

Regular and randomised site checks provide a visible security presence, while mobile response provides additional protection when incidents or alerts occur.

Site access control

Protecting vulnerable areas.

Controlled entry and perimeter security helps manage the movement of people and vehicles while protecting key access points and areas of your site.

Manned security and K9 units

People and protection where you need it.

Our SIA-licensed security personnel and specialist K9 teams provide additional deterrence, access control and physical protection where required.

OUR TECHNOLOGY PROVIDES THE VISIBILITY. OUR PEOPLE PROVIDE THE RESPONSE.

SECURITY YOU CAN RELY ON

Recognised industry standards

We operate to the highest standards in the UK security industry. Every accreditation is independently audited and recognised by government bodies, major contractors, and regulators.

Nationwide deployment

We provide security solutions across the UK, supporting construction projects and developments wherever protection is required.

Rapid deployment

Our ability to mobilise security technology, personnel and response services means protection can be put in place quickly wherever requirements arise.
